Journalism

---

1. Books and other materials

Use the QuickSearch on the Library Web-site (<http://www.libweb.anglia.ac.uk>) to find books, individual e-books, e-journals and other items on your subject. You will need to log in with your university login username and password to use electronic resources. If you are visiting the library, useful classmarks or shelf locations for printed books include:

070.4	Journalism
174.9097	Ethics of journalism
302.23	Mass media/sociology of journalism
302.2322	Media - Newspapers
302.2345	Media – Television
343.41099	Media law

2. E-Books

Individual e-books are available via Quicksearch, but there are collections of e-books such as: Ebrary, MyiLibrary, Dawsonera and Safari in the Digital Library via 'Books, e-books' on the left of the Web-site. Ebrary provides the full text of more than 25,000 e-books, covering most subject areas. MyiLibrary and Dawsonera are growing collections of titles in high demand. Safari includes e-books on desk top publishing.

4. Journals

Under the Digital Library heading, use the 'Journal Finder' on the Web-site to locate individual e-journals. You can also look for articles by searching databases relevant to your subject (see below). Print journals can be found in the Journals Collection, arranged alphabetically by title. A selection of e-journals is listed below:

American Journalism Review

Editor and Publisher

Global Media and Communication

Information, Communication and Society

Innovation Journalism

International Journal of Cultural Studies

Media Culture and Society

New Media and Society

Online Journalism Review (free direct from <http://www.ojr.org>)

St Louis Journalism Review

The Quill

UK Press Gazette (free direct from <http://www.pressgazette.co.uk>)

Articles in journals that are not available either in print or online from the University Library can be ordered by submitting an inter-library loan (ILL) request via 'Inter-

Library Loan' on the left of the library web-site. There is a charge of £2 per item for this service. Details are on the website at: <http://libweb.anglia.ac.uk/services/ill.htm>

5. Databases

The Digital Library at <http://www.libweb.anglia.ac.uk> includes databases containing journal articles and other sources of information. Log in and choose 'Database Finder' or 'Advanced Search', then 'Communication and Media' from the drop down menu, then choose the sub-category 'Journalism'. Relevant databases include:

Academic OneFile – journal & newspaper articles, most in full text

Box of Broadcasts – an archive of free to air TV & radio programmes

British Humanities Index – journal article references, some full text

COPAC – references to books and dissertations

Google Scholar – links to our full text journal articles

Intute – search for organisations and web-sites in this archive (no longer updated)

JSTOR – archive of full text journal articles

Sociological Abstracts – journal article references, some full text

Swetswise – full text journal articles

UK Newspapers Online – newspaper articles in full text

Westlaw – legal cases, legislation and articles

Zetoc – an index of journal article references

6. Research

Current research can be traced by searching for articles in the various databases above and for references to books and dissertations in the database COPAC. You can also search for references to dissertations in the Index for Theses, which also has a small percentage of full text. Try Intute to locate relevant organisations and their web-sites.

7. Other Libraries

See the 'Using other libraries' section of the Library web-site (www.libweb.anglia.ac.uk/helpdesk/others.htm) for details of other libraries that you can visit. You can also request books and articles that are stocked in other libraries by inter-library loan (see above).
